I enjoyed recitation and how it helped me solidify the content of the course! It is a great resource!

Great TA!

Javier was really good at explaining the lecture material and I understood almost everything he taught. The way he approached the practice problems was very helpful and informative.

He was good

Did a good job explaining the mathematical part of the subject.

Comment Suggestion	Javier is an amazing professor, one of the best I've had at Penn. He effectively teaches all of the concepts and answers all questions without judgment. He was always available outside class time and was very responsive to emails and the Canvas discussion board. His teaching method was very straightforward, and I always had a good idea of the concepts I needed to know before each exam. Though the course was difficult (the problem sets and homework were challenging), expectations were always clear which I appreciate a lot. The lectures were effective at explaining concepts. This course was a great experience and encouraged me to continue studying economics!
	Great course, Javier and Zhenxiao were great instructors!
	Very accelerated course so you need to make sure to stay on top of every single class but I can ensure you that Javier Tasso will make the learning run as smoothly as possible and will get all of your questions clearly answered no matter what.

Great TA, super involved and committed to helping us learn the material.

Everything was great.

Javier was a great TA this semester. He constantly made an effort to ensure we thoroughly understood the material and constantly did a great job in answering any questions we had about the content during recitation hours.

Javier was accessible and great at answering questions, however, I'd like to see more real-world applications in recitation.

I cannot say enough nice things about Javier. His ability to synthesize material during recitation was amazing. During weeks I felt lost during lecture, I could count on Javier's recitation to bring me back in the loop.

The structure of the recitation worked well for the class. In the class, Luca would teach us the facts, structures, and equations, and in recitation, we'd implement them. Because they were fairly simple, a few exercises in recitation were all that was needed to really learn it. Javier wasn't as responsive to emails as other TAs, so I usually emailed others when I had questions. To clarify, it's not that Javier was unresponsive or took a long time, it's just that there were a couple TAs that always responded super fast. The only other negative thing I have about Javier is he'd write the formulas on one tab on the board, and he'd try to keep them up there, but they'd always find a way to go away. Similarly, whenever he'd go to excel, the problem would just go away. It probably wouldve been easier if he split screened. But he still taught well and I wouldn't complain about having him as my TA.

Sometimes the connection between the lecture material and the numerical-based recitation problems was not made explicitly clear and was thus occasionally confusing.

Good TA. Could have had better notes or used the chalkboard more effectively, as it was sometimes very disorganized Pretty helpful, we were able to go through some of the mathematical problems that we were not able to do in class.

The recitation properly integrated the topics we learned in class. I liked that we did various exercises and the quizzes helped to evaluate our understanding.

I wish that we didn't have to rush through recitation material. I feel like that would have made me understand the material more fully better than the lecture

Really good at explaining the concepts and their applications.

very good

I definitely learned more from recitations than lectures.

Really nice and understanding to all students! Did a good job explaining the questions each week.

I think it would ve been more effective for TAs to let us work on problems in groups rather than just doing them on the board

Javier did a good job as TA considering the material he was covering. I would say that sometimes the examples that were covered felt a little disconnected to the material that was being taught and that sometimes it would get a little more complicated than necessary. Other than that I enjoyed being in his recitation and he did a more than satisfactory job.

Since the lecture and recitation were always a week a head of the when the assignment needed to be submitted, it didn't really help with the weekly assignments. I just went because I had to.

Javier Tasso really assisted in my comprehension of the matierials and concepts of this course!

I really liked Javier! Sometimes he was hard to understand which I feel bad about because I know he was trying his best!!

Excellent section to solve and understand economic problems in depth!

TA had very strong grasp on macro; went through each problem thoroughly but sometimes failed to explain thought process to students

I learned a lot from Javier. He made me understand Econ better than the professor did.

I really liked my TA.

Javier was so clear at teaching everything and was also incredibly supportive when students had things come up or needed extra help!

Javier Tasso was an excellent TA who has done a great job of helping students understand the numerous concepts we have learned this semester.

Great TA!

The TA did a decent job, sometimes his teaching was hard to follow

Recitation is extremely helpful. At some times it was hard to understand the TA but not too difficult that it made an issue. Class was short and did it s job.

I did not attend most recitations because I felt lectures were enough (Saka is very good + I took econ in high school). My judgement about my TA is very limited
