Cheating Comment	I don't even see how one could even try to cheat with this material.
Comment Suggestion	Javier is an amazing professor, one of the best I've had at Penn. He effectively teaches all of the concepts and answers all questions without judgment. He was always available outside class time and was very responsive to emails and the Canvas discussion board. His teaching method was very straightforward, and I always had a good idea of the concepts I needed to know before each exam. Though the course was difficult (the problem sets and homework were challenging), expectations were always clear which I appreciate a lot. The lectures were effective at explaining concepts. This course was a great experience and encouraged me to continue studying economics!
	Great course, Javier and Zhenxiao were great instructors!
	Very accelerated course so you need to make sure to stay on top of every single class but I can ensure you that Javier Tasso will make the learning run as smoothly as possible and will get all of your questions clearly answered no matter what.
